

A Prayer for My Marriage During Difficult Times

Dear Lord, I come before You boldly asking for Your divine intervention in my marriage. I invite Your Holy Spirit into my relationship and ask You give us the eyes to see and the ears to hear what is really going on right now.

Lord, I ask for Your divine wisdom, grace, patience, strength, and love to persevere through this valley. Soften our hearts, and renew our commitment to one another. Open the lines of communication, and allow forgiveness and kindness to reign in our conversations. We bind up the enemy who comes to kill, steal, and destroy rendering him powerless. Lord, I claim victory over my marriage right now through Your powerful and precious Name. God, make a way where there seems to be none. Restore, heal, strengthen, and renew our marriage this very day that You might be given glory. I thank you and praise You for what You are already doing right now. I commit this situation into Your hands.

Through the precious name of Jesus,
Amen!
